2007 Roseena rosé

McMinnville A.V.A.

Suggested Retail Price: $16

TASTING NOTES

Roseena is an ancient Persian term for “a beautiful woman who naturally smells of roses.” A favorite since our first release, our dry 2007 Roseena showcases a brilliant pink salmon hue. True to it’s name, Roseena’s nose is a ever refreshing summer floral bouquet with hints of honeysuckle. A creamy texture melds with an expression of watermelon, strawberry and ruby-red grapefruit on the palate. This balance of mouth feel, acidity, and supple tannins lends our Roseena a wonderful aperitif while retaining a crisp clean finish. Enjoy!

WINEMAKER’S COMMENTS

The 2007 Roseena rose is comprised entirely of Pinot Noir from the Momtazi estate. The Pinot Noir was hand selected from throughout the 532-acre estate in order bring the necessary balance and reflection of our terroir. The soft layers of tannins we feel create a easily approachable and desirable Oregon Pinot Noir Rose. Following harvest 100% of the Pinot Noir was de-stemmed and pressed. In order to maintain its natural beauty and bouquet, this wine was made entirely in stainless steel and did not undergo malolactic fermentation. This wine was filtered prior to bottling on March 4, 2008.

FRUIT SOURCE

Our 2007 Roseena fruit was sourced from our own Demeter Certified Biodynamic® Momtazi Estate Vineyard.
